

MATRIMONIAL

Having trust issues in your relationship?
Need to know for sure?

We are an established investigation agency with a proven 27-year history of performing surveillance and utilizing other sophisticated techniques to monitor the conduct of would-be philanderers.

You provide us with detailed information on your significant other and inform us of the time and then the date (most likely times are Fridays or Mondays). Surveillance will be initiated from a location and time of your choice. When necessary, we will obtain video evidence. We will not reveal who we work for under any circumstance. You will then receive a verbal update as to where they went, who they met and what they did while together. We will identify who the other person is and obtain information about them. Finally, a report and video will be sent directly to you at a secure address after completion of the entire case. Our reports alone are unbiased & will suffice in court and we will testify if necessary.

Warning signals of your significant other cheating:

- Lack of intimacy
- Unexplained hotel charges
- Tells you it's your imagination
- Cell phone records hidden
- Change in music or wardrobe
- Accusing you of having an affair
- Mood swings
- New diet
- Working later
- Secretly on the internet
- Argumentative before leaving the house
- Not answering the cell phone
