EXECUTIVE PROTECTION

Getting you out of harm's way.

A Tech Investigation Services, Inc. has provided executive protection to visiting dignitaries, CEO's, entertainers, Royal family members and other VIP's. We have developed a list of professional services that are pertinent to a secure and pleasurable visit to the New England area. A combination of advance work, threat assessment and experience keeps the client "out of harm's way".

We maintain a full complement of the latest in secure communications and counter surveillance equipment. In addition, each member of our executive protection staff is trained to anticipate and minimize confrontational situations. Furthermore, every protection specialist is experienced in advanced tactical firearms, structural defensive driving, CPR and first response techniques as well as self defense. We also have a relationship with a trusted executive limo company for secure transportation.
