Identify Those Stealing From Your Company

Surveillance is our specialty. A Tech has been doing surveillance for over 27 years. Whether it is employees stealing out the back door or truck drivers operating while intoxicated, our trained investigators will perform stationary as well as mobile surveillance, using state-of-the-art equipment.

Some of the specialized features of our undercover operations include:

- Our investigation will document the actions & activities of the employees at your facility
- Communication simplified by virtue of email
- Frequent verbal updates and meetings as required

The services that A Tech Investigation Services, Inc. will provide are:

Surveillance

A Tech specializes in surveillance, and will obtain the evidence necessary to prosecute those identified stealing from your location.

Background Investigation

A Tech will obtain the information that is necessary for you to make an educated decision on a prospective employee.

Camera Systems Installed

From simple to the most complex installation of elaborate camera systems. This can be monitored by your appropriate personnel from another location.

Non-Compete

We can provide evidence that an ex employee is breaking their non-compete contract agreement.

Undercover Operations

We provide undercover investigators who must adhere to strict guidelines administered by management. Training is an ongoing process which equips the operative with the appropriate skills necessary to obtain successful results.

Shopping Services

Shopping services test the honesty and integrity of your employees. This is demonstrated through various methods, including standard money drops and other techniques specific to your needs. Documentation of the shop will also include a report on safety, store appearance, sales, security and other facets of operation.
